

A bespoke website with content management.

Public design, navigation and product or informational pages adapt to desktop and mobile. The identity and content structure are shaped around your organisation and its offering.

Content pages and media.

Edit individual CMS page names, addresses, HTML content and SEO fields. Upload images and video. AI assistance supports the editor; the public website design is adapted during implementation.

Languages and SEO.

Separate language tabs, translation controls and search titles and descriptions. The existing four languages can be adapted to project markets; an editor reviews prepared content before publication.

Analytics and administration.

Review visitor metrics and popular pages. The administration area includes user roles, backup downloads and automatic backup history. External reporting sources are configured separately for each project.

A defined implementation and handover scope.

Design, languages and connections are agreed before implementation. Source code, data, access and documentation are handed over as agreed. A compact sales module is an optional extension.
